

PCPO's Spring Parenting Lecture

Want an advanced preview of our 2007 Conference Keynote?

Join us Friday evening, March 9th for

Parenting with Your Child's Brain in Mind

How can parents meet our children's important developmental needs within the demands of busy, and often stressful, lives? Gloria DeGaetano explains Brain-Compatible Parenting™ and how it can help moms and dads easily address critical needs of each stage of children's and teen's development. She will focus on how we can build our children's communication skills, competence, and autonomy as doorways that open optimal brain development at any age!
